GOT PICTURES OF
 THE FALLING WALLS

Henry Shedd and Fred Woodard have a set of pictures that were made of the Calisher building fire from the roof of the Rio Grande building, one of which shows the wall falling on mayor Robinson and the fireman.
 The picture is not a clear one but the building is plainly seen. The building away from the wall and falling to the street. Another view which was taken of the building Sunday morning shows the firemen cutting the cornice of the building and another shows the aerial ladder being moved against the wall an instant before the wall fell.

AMERICAN BANK'S
 VAULT UNINJURED

The American National bank vault in the burned Buckler building was opened Thursday morning by cash building and everything found in perfect condition and nothing missing.
 The fire did not reach the valuable papers and jewels which were stored in the vault and cashier Wyatt is feeling as if he had the weight of the big steel vault lifted from his shoulders.

EL PASO'S FATHER
DIES AT OROGRANDE

W. P. Smith Sixty Years Old
 Dies While Hunting
 For Work.

Alamogordo, N. M., Aug. 18.—A man's body found near the railroad track this side of Orogrande, has proved to be that of W. P. Smith, of Round Rock, Tex., a member of the W. O. W. He has a daughter in El Paso, Mrs. L. F. Robey.
 Smith was 60 years of age. Heart failure is the supposed cause of his death.
 Burial will be made here.

After vainly seeking work in El Paso, widower with a large family of children, W. P. Smith, met death near Alamogordo while still looking for the opportunity to tell. In many respects his case is peculiar.

About six months ago, Smith came to El Paso with his three children. He had been thrown out of employment at McGregor, Tex., where he had lived for four years. Here he lived with his daughter, Mrs. L. F. Robey, and her husband, who reside at 1405 East Overland street.

But Monday morning the father evidently gave up his search for employment in this city. He told his youngest son, Albert, age 12, that he was going out to look for work. He was not seen again until his children, Albert, despite his youth, had secured employment, but Earl, age 17, who joined the family later, had like his father, been unsuccessful. Little Mary, age 12, completed the helpless family.

When Smith did not return that night, the family became alarmed. The suspense was broken only by the mes-
